FOLLOWING IN HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS

The radio would appear to be destined to play a large part in the life of King Edward VIII, and the people of the British Empire, judging from the reception of the first speech made by His Majesty since his accession to the Throne. The King is no stranger to the microphone, having broadcast more than eighty speeches, and here he is seen sitting before the microphones in Broadcasting House, London, during a recent radio address.—By Courtesy of the BBC.

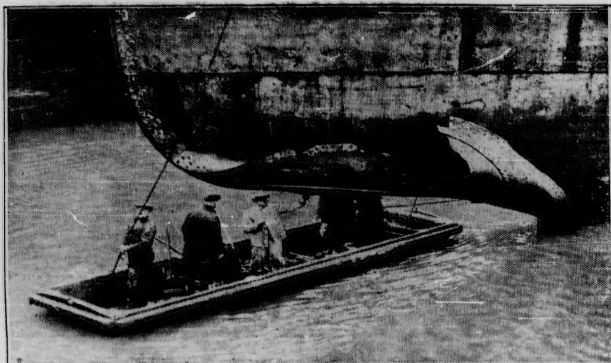

BRITISH FLIER WINS COVETED TROPHY

Jean Batten, generally conceded to be the most daring and accomplished aviator among the fair sex, is shown above with the coveted International Trophy, which she has just been awarded for her solo flight over the South Atlantic Ocean. Miss Batten has made several solo flights across Europe and Asia and has set several long distance flight records.

FORMER GOVERNOR-GENERAL OPENS EXHIBITION

The Earl of Rosborough, former Governor-General of Canada, recently opened the "Everyday Things" exhibition at the Royal Institute of British Architects, the first of its kind ever held. The purpose of the exhibition was to show that inexpensive, mass-produced objects for household use can be of good design as well as being efficient. Here are seen Lady Rosborough, Lord Rosborough (center) and Mr. R. L. Thomas, president of the Institute of British Architects, interested in an electric table model cooker.

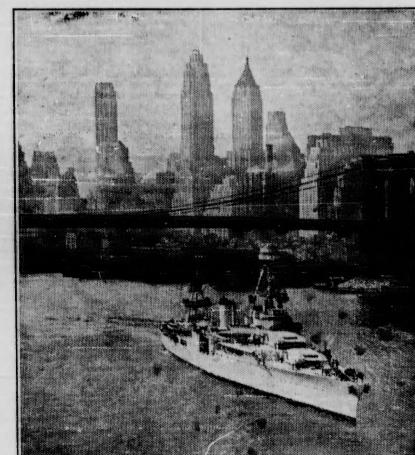

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A LINER HITS A ROCK?

This would appear to be the answer to the question "What happens when a big boat goes aground?" The 20,000-ton liner "Winchester Castle" went aground recently off Portland Bill with 338 passengers on board, but was able to get back into deep water and proceed to Southampton under her own power. On being inspected in drydock, it was found that her bow was badly buckled, and her experts are seen looking at the damaged plates.

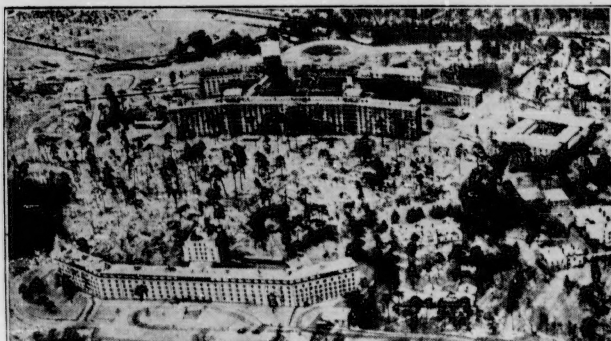

MOVIE PIONEER ATTENDS CELEBRATION

M. Louis Lumiere, the man who opened the first movie theatre, is shown examining a piece of film during his stay in London. He travelled from Paris to London to attend the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the first movie picture show in England, which took place at the Polytechnic Hall, London, on February 20, 1896.

ELEVATOR OPERATORS' STRIKE CRIPPLED NEW YORK

Last week-end striking New York elevator operators commenced a return to work, but for a while business in the city was almost completely crippled. It is impossible for employees to walk up forty, fifty or eighty stories of stairs to reach their offices, so the offices remained closed while the elevator operators and officials fought it out. Here is a general view of part of New York, which gives an excellent idea of the distance of some of the offices from the ground floor.

SWEDEN BUILDS $10,000,000 HOPITAL NEAR STOCKHOLM

An aerial view of the new $10,000,000 hospital city which is being built by the Swedish government in the lovely country close to the Royal Palace of Nasa near Stockholm. This medical city will include the latest inventions in Britain, the United States, Germany, France and Japan, and has a special building (extreme right) for cancer cases, partly financed by King Gustav's Jubilee Fund for Cancer Research.

MARRIES

Douglas Fairbanks, prominent movie director, is reported to have married Lady Ashley by special license in Paris. Fairbanks was divorced from Mary Pickford about a year ago.

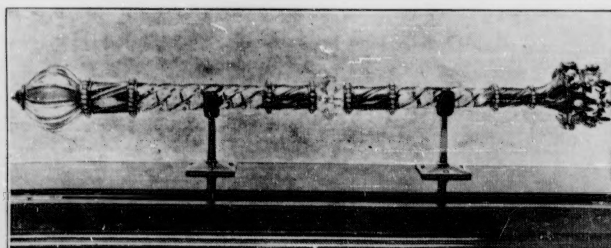

TOOK THE NO OUT OF LOCARNO

During the past week Adolf Hitler threw a bombshell into European affairs with his denunciation of the Locarno Treaty and re-militarization of the Rhineland.

Is the rope tied firmly up there, old man?

ANCIENT RELIC TO FIGURE PROMINENTLY IN CORONATION

The ancient crystal mace or sceptre of the City of London is only used in two ceremonies—Coronations and the swearing in ceremony of the Lord Mayor of London—and it will appear prominently in the coronation of King Edward in May 1937. It is 12 inches long and the shaft and knob are of crystal set in gold. The head is created under a bold coronet of four crosses, alternating with four crystal set in gold. The head is set with four pearls, and a quarter of the crown bears the arms of France and England painted on vellum. The sceptre is the link with the time when the Kings of England were also Kings of France.

THE DOCTOR'S DILEMMA

—Talbot in the Washington Daily News.

EDMONTON, Mar. 11.—A five-hour caucus of the Social Credit members of the legislature, lasting until 1:15 a.m. today, failed to produce a solution or a new move in the Alberta government's wangle with Major Douglas, world Social Credit leader and founder. Premier Aberhart declared at the end of the long conference that the government will not back down on its new budget, which was adopted Monday and which Major Douglas demanded last week be withdrawn. But the Premier rejected the caucus was unable to determine whether the calligram which Major Douglas sent on Tuesday had reference to the budget and new taxation as designed for the coming year or whether it referred to future policy.

LONDON, Mar. 11.—Nine destroyers of the Home Fleet, now in the Mediterranean, today were ordered to return to their Portsmouth base, where they will receive orders to proceed to a new but as yet unannounced destination. The Admiralty was understood to have recalled the fifty destroyer flotilla. Nine destroyers of the sixty flotilla simultaneously were said to have been ordered to leave Gibraltar for Malta. Eight destroyers of the new "G" class will steam to Gibraltar.

OTTAWA, Mar. 11.—Premier King told the Commons today he would investigate statement credited to the German Consul General in Montreal dealing with recruiting and conscription in Canada.
